

At Rew, we constantly review distribution services and delivery methods to make certain we are providing the best value of products and services to you our customer.

Our job quotes are made with the understanding that we are aware of all job conditions and the services needed to complete your job. We do have the ability to offer additional services should the job conditions and the scope of delivery change. Attached you will find our Non-Standard Material Handling and Delivery Fees for commercial and residential projects.

Please understand that nothing will change relative to our quotes. Only changes in job conditions from what we originally quoted, that requires additional services, will be subject to these charges.

We do appreciate your business and only wish to serve you in the best possible manner. Should you have any questions on this or any other matter, please contact us at Rew Materials.
